Highlights Of The Week

PCM WEEKLY ROUND-UP:

HTI LAUNCHES SPECIAL 50% DISCOUNT PROMO & KANO DIGITAL LITERACY STUDENTS SHINE

The Physical Class Mode (PCM) arm of HiiT Training Institute (HTI), the Training Division of HiiT PLC, recorded another eventful week marked by two major highlights: the launch of the Special 50% Discount Promo and the successful hosting of the October 2025 Morning Batch Digital Literacy Presentation in Kano. Both activities underscore HTI's commitment to driving digital inclusion and empowering aspiring tech professionals across Nigeria.

Unveils Special 50% Discount Promo Nationwide

In an effort to support more Nigerians in achieving their ICT ambitions, HTI has announced a Special 50% Discount Promo for all prospective trainees and tech enthusiasts who enrol on or before 30th November 2025. At a brief ceremony held to kick-start the promo, the Business Manager General – HTI (BMGHTI), Mr. Abdulfatah Umar, who represented the Executive Chairman, emphasized that the initiative reflects HTI's unwavering commitment to Corporate Social Responsibility. He noted that the massive discount is designed to ease access to quality ICT training, especially during the current economic climate. The event was attended by Branch Managers from Abuja, Kano, Ibadan, Lekki-Lagos, and Ikeja-Lagos. The promo covers a wide range of premium ICT courses, including Full-stack Data Analysis, Cybersecurity, Graphic & Multimedia Professional, Full-stack Web Development, Cloud Computing, Software Development, Hardware & Networking, and Mobile App Development, among others. Prospective trainees are encouraged to take advantage of this opportunity to acquire globally relevant tech skills at a significantly reduced cost.

Kano Digital Literacy Students Impress at End-of-Semester Presentation

In the same week, the Digital Literacy students of the October 2025 morning batch at HiiT Kano Branch held their 1st semester presentation on Friday, 14th November 2025. Hosting the session, the Faculty Coordinator, Mr Muhammed Opeyemi Shittu, described the cohort as a "special breed" of highly committed learners. He praised their dedication and expressed confidence in their potential for future greatness based on their consistent performance since enrollment.

Declaring the event open, the Branch Manager, Mr. Festus Peter, reaffirmed the significance of the presentation exercise in assessing trainees' mastery of basic computing skills, their teamwork abilities, and their progress in public speaking—one of the core competencies nurtured through HTI's training structure. At the end of the session, Team A and Team B emerged tied, following outstanding presentations and impressive defenses from both groups.

Delivering the closing remarks, the BMGHTI commended the Kano Faculty team and Resource Persons for their evident hard work in shaping the trainees. He encouraged them to sustain the momentum and strive to raise the bar even higher in subsequent batches.

November: A Month of Growth, Wins & Rising Potential

Over the past few weeks, our SIWES+ community has been vibrant with learning, creativity, and remarkable progress. As Chief Interns Relations Officer, it has been inspiring to watch our interns strengthen their skills, form meaningful connections, and take bold steps toward becoming the next generation of IT-driven innovators.

Here are some of the standout moments from the month:

CEO Webinars: Practical Insights, Real Conversations

This month, we continued our CEO Interactive webinar series, with active participation from interns across all channels.

Special mention goes to the intern who contributed an exceptional sound design used for the webinar—earning Most Valuable Contribution Award.

It's always encouraging to see talent shine when given room to express itself.

Academic Progress: Smooth Batch Transitions

We recorded a significant number of interns completing their AOS courses and progressing into a new batch (B50) seamlessly.

Special thanks to our customer relations officers who worked diligently to guide interns, respond to concerns, and ensure smooth transitions.

Congratulations to Our Top Performers

Out of 232 interns who completed their program this period, our three top performers stood out with exceptional consistency, dedication, and problem-solving excellence.

These achievements remind us that with discipline and the right support system, excellence is always within reach.

New SIWES Admin Office in Port Harcourt

We successfully opened a dedicated SIWES/IT Administration Office in Port Harcourt to better support interns and institutions in Rivers State.

It's a major step toward deepening accessibility and improving the overall HiIT SIWES experience nationwide.

Culture & Conduct: Strengthening Stakeholder Relationships

This month, we also revisited areas relating to intern conduct, instructor boundaries, and safer professional interactions.

We remain committed to cultivating an environment built on mutual respect, accountability, and transparency for all interns.

Looking Ahead...

As we move into a new month, our focus remains steady:

1. To support interns at every stage of their learning journey
2. To strengthen communication across branches
3. To ensure every intern feels seen, guided, and valued
4. To continue building a SIWES experience that transforms skills and character

Thank you to all interns, instructors, BIREMs, and the entire HiiT family for keeping our community vibrant and impactful.
